

Fostering curiosity, discovery, innovation, and problem-solving skills

Become an Institutional Member today to support science in Ohio!

Colleges and universities can join The Ohio Academy of Science (OAS) as an Institutional Member. This level of support provides the necessary resources to carry out the OAS's mission and to underwrite critical programs like State Science Day. This membership has benefits for both the institution as well as their faculty, staff, and students.

Benefits to the sponsoring institution include:

- A complimentary exhibit table at State Science Day (a $200 value)
- $200 credit toward an advertisement in the State Science Day program
- Placement of the institutions-linked logo on the OAS website
- Advertisement of the institution's logo in all printed OAS publications, including but not limited to the OAS Annual Report and The Ohio Journal of Science

Benefits to faculty, staff, and students include:

- All faculty, staff, and students can join the OAS as individual members at no charge
- Members can publish in The Ohio Journal of Science with no page charges or fees
- OAS members are given a voice in science advocacy and the opportunity to lead the OAS as an officer or trustee
- Undergraduate research award
- Service opportunities as volunteers, judges, and mentors

About the Academy - Founded in 1891, The Ohio Academy of Science is a membership-based, volunteer-driven, not-for-profit organization. The Academy is the leading organization in Ohio to foster curiosity, discovery, and innovation and to unite all who value education, science, engineering, technology, or their applications to benefit society. Our members are as diverse as the science taking place in Ohio, and our programs support science from pre-college and college students through scientific professionals.
